

After a criminal conviction or incarceration, your freedom was restored on a probation or parole-basis. It is important to remember that you have constitutional rights even if you are on probation or parole. The parole/probation violation defense attorneys of the Los Angeles County Law Offices of Zola Wegman & Associates represent people who have been released from custody on probation or parole to protect those rights.

To schedule a consultation now with a California probation/parole violations defense lawyer, contact the Law Offices of Zola Wegman & Associates. From our offices in Van Nuys & Beverly Hills, we represent clients throughout Los Angeles County.

- Expungement of a Criminal Record

Expungement may be available to you for state or federal crimes committed at any age. Expungement of your criminal record will allow you to qualify for better jobs in the future. If our expungement lawyers demonstrate your innocence to the court, we may be able to get a court order to have your fingerprints, photos, arrest record, and all related computer entries destroyed or deleted.

- Terminate Your Probation—Felony Reduced to a Misdemeanor

Under certain circumstances, we may be able to make a motion to have your felony conviction changed to a misdemeanor after the fact. If you have done well on probation, we can move for an early termination of probation.

- Juvenile Records Sealed

If you were a juvenile when the crime was committed, you may have the opportunity to get your record expunged, or have your record sealed.

- Parole/Probation Violations Defense

People on parole or probation still have rights. We have extensive experience in defending people on parole or probation. You have the right to due process when you are accused of violating your probation or parole. If we are your defenders, we will closely investigate facts and present evidence vigorously on your behalf.

If you are accused of violating parole, we will defend your freedom by fighting against your return to prison. To schedule a consultation now with an experienced Probation attorney, contact the Law Offices of Zola Wegman & Associates at 310-285-1766